Attacks against the API community are not new, and the pandemic has exacerbated the long history of anti-Asian rhetoric and xenophobia. As #BOBCATUNITED collective, we must protect our ethnically diverse communities from further any violence. If we want to succeed in ending hateful attacks against any of our communities, we must stand together, work together, and denounce racism together.

We, the UC Merced community, condemn these acts of violence and must continue to always stand up in the face of hate. As such, the Office of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion will be working to bring the necessary resources to our Asian American community members and to the allies who are ready to support.
